

PLUNGERHEAD

Wines inspired by our love of Zinfandel and our knack for wild innovation.

There are the conventional and then there are The Other Guys. Plungerhead was made by The Other Guys, a craft division of Don Sebastiani & Sons. Don and his sons Donny and August, third and fourth generations negociants, are recognized for delivering quality, value and doing things differently. Richard Bruno, Director of Winemaking, and his team select small lots of grapes from choice appellations to create balanced, expressive wines and arousing blends.

88 “What an easy drinking Zin, and it has real complexity, too. The flavors are rich, chocolaty cherry, raspberry and blackberry flavors, with Zinny spices, while firm tannins and good acidity provide a rich structural balance. This is a lip-smackingly good Zinfandel.”

Winemaker's Notes

With deep garnet color, the nose reminds us of caramelized oak, chocolate covered strawberries, and savory subtle sage. The mouthfeel is soft but the flavors are vibrant with notes of cassis, vanilla rum, pecan pie, and black cherries with a warm, lingering finish.

Our Dry Creek Zinfandel would be great with pecan crusted salmon with mushroom risotto, braised duck breast with caramelized leeks and turnips, or with a dessert of dark chocolate crème caramel garnished with fresh raspberries.

With a ZORK seal, there are no tools required to enjoy Plungerhead. Just peel and pop. Reusable and recyclable.
