Wine Enthusiast November 2007

88 "I like this wine a lot, even though it doesn't have Viognier's typical exotic richness. Bone dry, with mouth-tingling acidity and low alcohol, it shows citrus, coconut macaroon, apricot and spice flavors that finish with real complexity. The cool vintage definitely was kind to this inland, Delta appellation."

Winemaker's Notes

Our Clarksburg Viognier is golden straw in color with a blast in the nose of fresh stone fruits; nectarine, orange blossom, and lemon meringue. Concentrated tropical flavors cover your mouth upon first sip; mango, breadfruit, orange pound cake, Tahitian vanilla, lemon curd, and white peach with a long lingering finish.

This wine is extremely versatile. Great with summer appetizers like melon wrapped with prosciutto and an array of fresh fruit and nuts. Entrée pairings would be Jamaican jerk chicken with fried plantains or fish tacos with mango salsa and coconut rice. Or use this wine to make a sorbet to finish off your meal as an elegant dessert. The possibilities are endless.
