Burgundy in color, this Italian Pinot Noir has a very distinct, silky nose of fresh cranberries, roses, and a hint of cedar. Dark and with snappy acidity on the palate, tart red cherry and pomegranate flavors blend with earthy, mushroom notes that evoke Italian terroir of black, volcanic soils. French oak lightly comes through on the mid-palate with nuanced sandalwood flavors, finishing medium-bodied with crisp acidity and a touch of espresso.

Simple Italian food comes to mind when pairing with this lively Italian red wine; serve with a Quattro Formaggi pizza, fettuccini pasta with rich marinara sauce, or a goat cheese brushetta.

The first wine made by Don Sebastiani & Sons, Pepperwood Grove represents Sonoma's heritage to the Sebastiani Family. While every winemaking region has its own story, they all share a common way of life. Today, we source grapes from all over the world to find the best wine at the best price in order to spread that sense of place with families everywhere.
